

FINANCE FOR NON-FINANCE MANAGERS TRAINING

You too can be so good in finance that they will no longer ignore you in those finance meetings.

(NITA APPROVED)

When: 22nd to 24th May 2024 (8:30am-5:00pm)

Where: The Clarion Hotel, Nairobi

Every managerial decision has an impact on numbers. Every number has an impact on managerial decisions. You can thus not afford to ignore the numbers. While in those management meetings, agree and disagree using the numbers in the most relevant way.

Every managerial position will require you to direct and organize for the use of an organization's resources accordingly. One big component of an organization's resources is financial resources. Coincidentally, finance happens to be the most sensitive resource in an organization, without which, major goals and objectives cannot be achieved. You do not only need the finance knowledge during planning but you also need it to evaluate performance, forward proposals and measure performance of your team.

This training gives you an edge in your financial knowledge. You will be able to understand not only the terminologies used in finance but also the various value drivers that you can utilize to increase your performance. Finance is one of the key components that you can use to add wealth to the firm while also giving your organization a competitive advantage. Get in the know.
